JENNY McNEELY ON ART IN BRUSSELS, MUSIC IN BERLIN AND SUPERHUMANS IN LONDON

BRUSSELS ACCESSIBLE ART FAIR

21-23 September,
accessibleartfair.com

The aim of Brussels Accessible Art Fair is to bring artists and art lovers face to face, giving the art buyer the opportunity to gain more insight into the work they are purchasing.

PIETAS JAN FABRE

Antwerp, until 23 September, visitantwerpen.be

Created by Jan Fabre in 2011, this controversial marble sculptural suite was exhibited for the first time during the 54th Venice Biennale. This month you can see it in the artist's home city of Antwerp as part of the city's Summer of Contemporary Art. A booklet is available to guide you through the art-filled neighbourhoods.

BERLIN FESTIVAL

7-8 September, berlinfestival.de

Of Monsters And Men, Grimes and Django Django join Sigur Rós, Franz Ferdinand and The Killers at Berlin's Tempelhof Airport. The festival also hosts the world's biggest (but quietest) after-show party when 10,000 headphones will allow ticket holders to silent disco until 4am.

ART COPENHAGEN

14-16 September, artcopenhagen.dk

Visitors are given the chance to meet Scandinavia's leading contemporary art galleries and young galleries from other European countries. Saturday is Gallery Night when participating galleries are open from 7pm-10pm.

30% off b.light economy fares* Book 1-13 September; travel 14-17 September; promo code MCPHARTC

BARCELONA ACCIO MUSICAL (BAM)

21-23 September,
bcn.cat/merce

Taking place during the week-long festivities of the Festes de la Mercé, BAM stages live, free concerts on Plaça del Rei in the Gothic quarter; famous names perform outside the cathedral, with dance acts at the Fòrum and rumba at Portal de la Pau.
